The slender oval fan at the left of this group is of straw-colored crape, with a lacquered white frame. The edge is surrounded with an applique border of cream lace, the net ground of which has been cut away. A painted decoration of flowers and butterflies is at the centre. The middle fan is of orange gauze, with floral ornamentation in water-colors. The sticks are of gilded wood. To the right is a large fan of bronze-colored ostrich feathers attached to gilt sticks. A ribbon bow trims the frame.
